FP International's Green Family of Products

"Protecting everything that is valuable" is one of the cornerstones of FP International's vision and business ideas. By developing our packaging products we not only strive to protect your goods but also some of the most valuable things in life like the environment we live in. We also believe that environmentally friendly packaging differentiates in a positive way, which means added value for you and your customers.

FP International introduces the GREEN FAMILY of products which provide superior protective packaging solutions that deliver answers to key environmental questions of our day. So the best of both worlds! The first two members of the Green Family are: FLO-PAK GREEN and CELL-O GREEN.

"100% RECYCLED MATERIAL ..."

FLO-PAK GREEN is made from 100% recycled polystyrene material, is reusable and 100% recyclable! Further, the product has a back-up system: if the product ends up as litter in the environment it will degrade in the presence of microorganisms!

CELL-O GREEN air cushions contain recycled post consumer waste. The product can be re-used and is 100% recyclable. This promotes source reduction which results in less pressure on natural resources. FP upgrades "waste" to raw material again and again!
